NEWS OF KANSAS.

An Oil Refinery for Neodesha Is Assured.

The Machinery for Ft. Scott's Tow Factory Shipped.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

The Wichita Daily News Suspends Publication.

NEODESHA, Oct. 12.—Considerable speculation in regard to the market for the petroleum produced at this place has been rife for some time and even though an agreement has been entered into by the owners of oil lands and Guffey & Gale providing for the erection of a refinery by that company in case oil should be found in paying quantities, the matter has been uncertain and in doubt until the present time.

Secretary Wm. McGhee, who has charge of Guffey & Gale's office work, says positively that they will build a refinery right away and that it will belong to that company, and that none of the larger corporations are connected with the enterprise. Several sites have been talked of, though the purchase of the land is not yet completed. A refinery, such as they will put up, is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Many business ventures in Neodesha have been hanging fire on this refinery question, and when work is begun, which will be very soon, everything else will take a fresh start.

NEWTON SEIZES THE WATERWORKS.
The Water Company It Is Claimed Hasn't Lived Up to Its Contract.

NEWTON, Oct. 12.—For years this city has been imposed on by the water works company, and yesterday the difference culminated and the city took possession of the works. The company has not lived up to its contract from the day it began operation, and forborne ceased to be a virtue, so the city refused to pay rental thereupon, and the company shut the works down at 12 m, October 10.

The works remained closed just fifteen minutes, for the city had made its arrangements to take possession, as it claims it has a right to do by the contract, and is running the works.

FT. SCOTT TOW FACTORY.
The Machinery Has Been Shipped and Building Will Be Begun Soon.

FT. SCOTT, Oct. 12.—The first carload of the machinery for the tow factory has been shipped from Dayton, Ohio, and is expected any day. Messrs. A. E. Martin and W. P. Cooch, gentlemen connected with this factory, came in from Dayton yesterday, and will make their homes here.

The building will be begun at once upon the completed foundations, south of the city, by Contractor Ager. The factory will be an accomplished fact in a few weeks.

Mrs. Johnson Acquitted.
LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Mary Johnson, charged with the murder of Patrick Donohue, was acquitted in the district court. During the trial it was made to appear that Donohue, who was a veteran at the soldiers' home, was trespassing on Mrs. Johnson's premises when she shot him and that he tried to assault her.

A. H. T. A. Officers.
PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—The meeting of the Kansas Anti-Foreign Tie Association elected the following officers for the ensuing year: C. F. Leach, Arkansas City, president; A. F. Paul, Hutchinson, vice-president; G. M. Coffman, Parsons, secretary; J. R. Watson, Hutchinson, treasurer. Parsons was selected as the next meeting place.

The new time card which went into effect on the Union Pacific last Sunday, by which the day train goes west about two hours earlier than formerly, has made much trouble for local travelers.

A number of persons during the week have gone to the depot shortly after noon to take the train and found that it had been gone more than an hour.

ALMOST INDEPENDENT.

John M. Brown Criticizes the Republican Party Severely.

Col. John M. Brown made a rather sensational speech at Hamilton hall last night in which he advocated a new political organization by colored people and gave notice that he would continue his fight on Ingalls.

It was a colored Republican meeting and the hall was nearly full when the speaker, Geo. W. Jones of Hill City had finished his speech fully half the crowd had disappeared.

Mr. Jones took occasion to defend ex-Senator Ingalls in his speech: "When they talk about Mr. Ingalls," he said, "they forget to tell all he said. He said that the condition of the black people was never better, it should be until every one of them could cast a fair ballot and have it counted. He said that the south is on a brink of a volcano and that the colored race has suffered as no people have suffered for 25 years. Mr. Ingalls is my friend."

When Col. Brown was introduced he let the audience know that he has not given up his fight on Ingalls.

"A great many of my friends," he said, "think it strange that I should enter the campaign at this late day. I have taken no part in the fall campaign so far and I have had good reason. I made up my mind when I retired from the office of county clerk to keep out of politics. I have been in active politics for 25 years and I have found a political life not the best to live."

"It has been said by some that I have become a stumbling block in the way of my race and that I have been put in the ward too much. So I have thought that if you were not willing I should instruct you I could instruct your boys in farming and lead them away from the craps tables of the city."

"There is a great man in this state and a great deal has been said about him. He is a man of great power and without gloves. I handled him like I used to a school boy. And now my friends let me say to you who have criticized my action that though I am a partisan I reserve the right to be a man. I am here reading and studying and that may's position as a leader will be lost."

"People have inquired of me why I did not answer his letter. I will tell you why I did not answer the letter. I heard that he was not a candidate for United States senator, but I will answer him soon enough, and when he is a candidate I will get after him like a hawk was after my chickens today. I have not forgotten him."

"It has been said that I have gone to the Populists, but I am still a Republican. I felt like retiring because the political atmosphere is so distorted. Things are changing, and the people are thinking. The political party which lives long now must live fast and live well. People have learned to think more of principles than of party, and while I am a Republican I have the right of every other American citizen to vote and take a place."

"I will work for the success of the Republican party, but I am ready to admit that there are good men in all parties and I have nothing to say against the men of any party. The fight in Kansas is between the Populists and Republicans. East of the line the Populists are afraid of them, whether justly or not, and that fact will make hard times for us if the Populists win. They cannot elect a president in 1896."

"You have voted the Republican ticket for thirty years, and you will vote it again. But things are not as they were like they used to be and the colored people are divided. They will no longer be satisfied with talk about the war. If you make no demands and accept what is offered you will never be anything more than common laborers. You must learn to stand together, regardless of politics, like a stone wall. Demand what is right and hold out until you get it. The colored politician is cringing at the feet of the white leaders of the party. The Republican party is progressing, but the leaders are neglecting the black race. Let the colored people organize throughout the state and the state will be able to tread the wine press alone if necessary. What would become of the Republican party if you do tread the wine press alone? If you do that the colored people will be no longer neglected."

HARRISON'S TRIP.

Makes a Few Speeches in Indiana for Republicans.

Met by Great Crowds All Along the Line.

IT IS TIME TO THINK.

Our Troubles Will End if People Will Think.

Welcomed to Terre Haute by the McKinley Club.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—Ex-President Benjamin Harrison and party left over the Vandalia railroad for Evansville, Ind., this morning at 9 o'clock, where he will make a speech tonight.

The train was a special one and consisted of a combination (passenger and baggage combined) and a parlor car with a vestibule platform on the rear. This was given for the use of Mr. Harrison and his party in lieu of the private car of President McKean, which is in the shop for repairs.

Mr. Harrison arrived at the station, accompanied by his secretary, and at once took a seat in the car. Mr. Harrison objected to the parlor car that had been furnished him and he protested that he could not speak from the rear platform on account of the vestibule. He said that a car with an open rear platform should have been provided. There was a consultation which resulted in the discovery that there was no other car available. In the party were Chas. W. Fairbanks, ex-United States Marshall, D. M. Kinsdel, Benjamin Wolcott, W. W. Thornton, Ex-District Attorney S. N. Chambers and Russell M. Seeds, secretary of the Republican state committee, Theodore Shockney, Hiram Brownlee and J. B. Cookman (The last two as emergency speakers).

Good Times for Thinking.
BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 12.—The special train bearing ex-President Harrison and party arrived here a few minutes late, having been delayed by stops not contemplated in the arrangements. At Plainfield the train slackened speed and Gen. Harrison bowed to a crowd of 3,000 and at Clayton 1,000 people had gathered, among them many members of the Seventh Indiana, Gen.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.
Harrison and regiment.

He addressed the crowd as follows: "My Friends, These quiet autumn days are good days for reflection, a good time to think as you walk over the fields that you have filled and as you gather the harvest of your labors and as you sit by the American firesides, that in spite of all the hardships of the times, these firesides are the happiest and the best in the world."

"Put in your time thinking. We will get right on all these public questions, if our people will think. It is prejudice; it is the fact that men don't think, but allow their minds to be warped by prejudice, allow catch phrases and denunciations of other men to warp them from a calm consideration of public questions."

"Let us set before us the resolve that as citizens now as when you were soldiers during the war, our country's honor and prosperity shall be first in our affections and our efforts. Let us see that nothing shall prevent us from acting as citizens for what seems to us to be wise and good for all our people and for the glory of the good old flag."

At Greencastle 3,000 people gathered. Gen. Harrison said: "In consenting, at the urgent solicitation of the Republican state central committee, to make two speeches in Indiana I did not realize the capacity of the committee for multiplication. [Laughter.] They have arranged to separate the beginning and the end of this first speech of the campaign by very many hundreds of miles, the peroration and the exordium, if I may use such large phrases with reference to these small talks, are very far apart."

"I thank you my countrymen for the interest you have shown this morning, in listening to it, for making arrangements for this brief meeting. I said to the people at Clayton, this autumn time is a good time for thinking. The farmer has been too busy to think or read much through these times of plowing and sowing and reaping, but the quieter days of the fall have come now and it is a good time to do a good deal of thinking."

"Can the working man expect to have good wages when the mills do not pay any dividends to the stockholders; can the farmer expect to have good prices for his crops when the workingman is not employed and getting good wages."

Address at Brazil.
In his address to the Brazil audience, Gen. Harrison said: "Not long ago we heard a great deal from Democratic newspapers at a time when the country was prosperous and when the prosperity was generally distributed among all the people, a great deal of talk about a time when the rich were getting richer and the poor were getting poorer and by way of curing that condition of things, which did not exist, the Democrats said that they would bring in a time when the rich would all get poorer and the poor all get richer."

"But instead of that they have illustrated the general truth that we prosper together and that we suffer together by being in a time when we are all getting poorer. The policy of a party that is to be accepted by a people should be a policy that brings and maintains a general policy and that appeals to men in all pursuits of life."

"Let us stop to think of the promises that were made us, because out of this experience you ought to learn. Experience is a hard school, but its lessons abide with you longer than any other. The Democrats talked to the laboring man about the oppression of the tariff, and especially as it was related to his coal.

"The appeal made to you was to smash the tariff, the suggestion being that your wages would be as good as they had been, but that everything you bought would be cheaper. You were told that it would be a good thing to smash this tariff umbrella which you and your employers had been walking under together and sharing the benefits of its protection."

"You were told that you were getting too much of the drip, but you found what you had smashed that umbrella that in the very nature of things he had an accumulation and had provided himself with a rubber coat, while you were left in your shirt sleeves."

Escorted by the McKinley Club.
TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 12.—Fully 10,000 people welcomed Gen. Harrison to Terre Haute, and there was general disappointment when it was announced that the open air meeting had been abandoned and speaking would be done in the house. The building wouldn't contain one-fourth of the crowd, but those who could get in made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in number.

The general was escorted from the train to the opera house by the McKinley club of Terre Haute.

At the opera house he was received with great enthusiasm and spoke for half an hour.
